General Guidelines:
1. Certain types of advertising will not be accepted, including but not limited to ads about:
   - tobacco products,
   - alcoholic beverages,
   - family-planning products, services, businesses or related events,
   - adult-entertainment options,

   - or any other products or services deemed unsuitable by the editor, University Communications and/or the Office of the Chancellor.
2. Emphasis will be placed on messages for products or services that have relevance to the primary audience of the Scarlet and Today@UNL: the faculty and staff of UNL.
3. Positioning of ads cannot be guaranteed. Ads will be positioned at the discretion of the editor unless otherwise specified and acknowledged in writing by the editor. No advertising will be displayed upside down, sideways or in any manner not consistent with traditional newspaper display. No display advertising will be placed on page 1.
4. Any ads for UNL entities featuring logos of UNL must meet the logo standards set by the chancellor.
5. Any ads for manufactured products using the registered name, mark or symbols of UNL must be licensed with the university.
6. The editor reserves the right to refuse any artwork or copy deemed unsuitable for publication.
7. The editor reserves the right to limit the number of column inches sold for advertising.

Billing and payment:
1. Internal UNL clients will be billed for advertising through cost centers.
2. External advertisers must prepay by cash or check but credit may be arranged.

Exclusivity contracts:
The University of Nebraska-Lincoln has exclusivity contracts with certain businesses, and ads will not be accepted that conflict with these exclusive contracts. Ads will not be accepted for businesses or promotions that compete with UNL's contracts for:

- soft drinks
- sports drinks
- photocopy machine sales

Insurance, travel and credit/debit card ads:
Because of postal regulations, advertising for insurance, travel and credit or debit cards will be subject to a charge in addition to the standard ad rate to pay for the difference in postage cost. Please consult the editor for more information.

Errors/Omissions:
1. Clients that create their own ads assume full responsibility and liability for all content printed in their paid space and also assume all liability for any claims arising from these ads. University Communications will not knowingly publish any advertising that is in violation of the law.
2. Advertisers will be able to view a proof of their ads before publication and are expected to check ads for typographical and other similar errors. University Communications staff is not liable for errors made that were not corrected by the client on the proof. University Communications is not responsible for incorrect copy submitted by the advertiser.
3. Advertisers must report any errors in ads in the Scarlet and Today@UNL to the editor within one week of publication.
